Jefferson County Homeland Security and Emergency Management Participates in National Preparedness Month

Have you visited JCHSEM's Facebook Page or Twitter posts this month? If not, you are missing a wonderful opportunity to learn about various ways to prepare yourself, your family, your pets and your business for the next large emergency or disaster.

Other National Preparedness Month activities that you may wish to participate in this month include:

JCHSEM will set up a booth at Home Depot on September 27 from 8 a.m.—5 p.m. as our PrepareAthon activity for 2014's NPM. Our booth will have several brochures available to help you learn how to prepare for future disasters. We will also have cloth bags with a list of disaster supplies printed on it for your convenience, while supplies last! The bags were contributed to us by West Virginia Citizen Corps.

On Monday, September 29, we will host a Lunch-N-Learn session on Financial Preparedness at the Jefferson County Meeting Room in the basement of the Old Charles Town Library. The Lunch-N-Learn will be taught by Michael Murphy of BB&T. This event is free. Bring your lunch along and learn tips for preparing your family financially for the next disaster!

Jefferson County Homeland Security and Emergency Management Named NOAA Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador

“Welcome to the NOAA Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador™ initiative. Your organization has been accepted as a NOAA Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador.

The Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador initiative is an effort to formally recognize NOAA partners who are improving the nation’s readiness against extreme weather, water, and climate events. As a Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador, your organization is committing to work with NOAA and other Ambassadors to strengthen national resilience against extreme weather.”

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) is accepting applications from both the public and private sector to become a Weather-Ready Nation Ambassador, as part of an initiative to unite national preparedness and response to severe weather threats. WRN ambassadors will serve as a point of contact between their organization and NOAA, sharing relevant safety messages from NOAA and National Weather Service knowledge. First PIV-I Credentials Issued in Jefferson County Kearneysville—The first Personal Identity Verification Interoperability (PIV-I) credentials were issued in Jefferson County—first to the Trusted Agents for the Program: Barbara Miller, Director, JCHSEM; Jessica Owens, Deputy Director, JCHSEM, and Bill Polk and Laura Kuhn of the Jefferson County Maintenance Department, where the equipment is housed. Local Law Enforcement Chiefs, the Emergency Communications Director and Deputy Director all submitted their information to the state, received their credentials, and activated them in June. An additional round of credentials will be applied for during the month of September by the remaining local law enforcement officials that did not get theirs in the first round. David Skeen of the West Virginia Department of Homeland Security and Emergency Management is overseeing the program in the state and was on-hand as Jefferson County signed up the first group.

Driven by the issuance of Homeland Security Presidential Directive 12 (HSPD-12) in 2004, the U.S. Federal Government has invested significant effort and resources in implementing robust, interoperable credentialing processes and technologies. The resulting standard, Federal Information Processing Standard (FIPS) 201, Personal Identity Verification (PIV) of Federal Employees and Contractors, provides a framework of the policies, processes, and technology required to establish a strong, comprehensive program. And in fact, since 2005, the Federal Government has successfully used this framework to issue over 5 million PIV cards to Federal employees and contractors. In addition, Federal agencies have developed an infrastructure for using these interoperable credentials to support additional requisite functions, including the following:

- Physical security, including facility access and video analytics
- Logical security, including network and application access
- Incident monitoring and response
- Encryption and protection of sensitive data

Credentialing Kiosks are located in Jefferson and Berkeley Counties, as well as other counties throughout the state.

None of the identity information remains in the local kiosk.
