RE: ZTA19-01, Special Event Facilities

On April 9, 2019, the Planning Commission made a motion to accept into their work plan Quintina Reddington's request to create a text amendment to allow an event facility in the Rural zoning district.

Staff has received a number of inquiries to establish event venues, typically for weddings and similar types of receptions/celebrations. Since the adoption of Section 8.14 in 2014, which allows for a Rural Event Facility in an existing structure, it has been brought to our attention that converting existing barns is cost prohibitive due to the requirements set forth in Building Code; however, under the current regulations, there are no provisions to process a newly constructed event facility in the Rural zoning district.

The draft amendment before you today proposes two types of event facilities. An Agricultural Special Event Facility, which mimics the intent of the existing provisions in Section 8.14 but proposes additional text for clarity such as a minimum acreage and that the use be accessory to an existing farm.

The second type of facility is a Special Event Facility, which is a facility that operates independent from any other use on the property. A Special Event Facility would require processing a Conditional Use Permit to operate in the Rural, Residential Growth, and Village zoning districts. The proposed text includes criteria for the Board of Zoning Appeals to consider when reviewing an application such as the proposed frequency of events, maximum building capacity, signage, etc. Requiring a Conditional Use Permit for this land use is consistent with the County Commission's 2018 revision to Appendix C to allow most Commercial Uses to process as a Conditional Use in these zoning districts. Staff also found that the proposed text is consistent with the Envision Jefferson 2035 Comprehensive Plan's recommendation to "Amend the Zoning and Land Development Ordinance to permit additional non-residential rurally compatible uses." (recommendation 5, page 77 of the Plan.)

The proposed text is also consistent with the Plan's recommendation 5.b to "Amend local land use regulations to permit non-agriculturally related commercial uses by the Conditional Use Permit (CUP) process in the Rural zone if the use is agriculturally and rurally compatible in scale and intensity, poses no threat to public health, safety, and welfare, and if the use helps preserve farmland and open space and continue agricultural operations."

The Planning Commission's role is to receive input from the public and to determine whether the proposed text amendment is consistent with the Envision Jefferson 2035 Comprehensive Plan. Following the public hearing, the Planning Commission will finalize the draft text amendment and make a recommendation to the County Commission. Once the Planning Commission forwards their recommendation to the County Commission, the County Commission is required to hold a Public Hearing to receive additional public input.

The proposed text amendment reflects revisions to Section 2.2, Terms Defined; Section 8.14, Rural Reception/Event Facility [Proposed Special Event Facility]; and Appendix C, Principal Permitted and Conditional Uses Table.

2.B. Agricultural and Rural Economy

One of the more significant issues expressed by County residents involved in the Envision Jefferson 2035 process was maintaining the rural economy and small town lifestyle of Jefferson County. It is important that this discussion not be framed by the concept of preservation but of creating opportunities for farms to be economically viable. This would include identifying ways to protect and enhance the farms and open spaces that provide the rural character along with the agribusinesses that have been the historical heart of the Jefferson County economy. One goal of this Plan is to maintain productive farmland soils and the rural character and economy of the County by reducing the conversion of farmland to non-agricultural based uses.

There must be a viable rural economy to maintain the rural landscape. The rural economy is much more than traditional farming. It includes innovative agriculture, horticulture, forestry, commercial and non-commercial equine industry, other forms of animal husbandry, tourism, rural based public and commercial recreation, ancillary rural business, and compatible rural institutional uses. Many of these sectors are growing and collectively contribute significantly to Jefferson County's economy and provide several thousand jobs. The County's citizens benefit from the proximity of rural based activities and services and the rural enterprises benefit from nearby markets for goods and services. With this potential, the rural areas of Jefferson County should be seen as ripe for investment and reinvestment.

A key aspect of the County's rural economy is recognizing the changes in the regional and national marketplace that might affect agricultural activities at the local level. In some instances, farm operators have adapted to these changes by diversifying into additional farm based activities, changing the types of farming activities taking place on a site, or seeking to include direct sales and on-site marketing, and value added processing of crops or products. The ability of a farm operator to diversify or change their operations to meet the needs of the marketplace is an important consideration in providing a framework for the continuation and enhancement of farm and agricultural activities in Jefferson County.

The enhancement of the rural economy is a central focus of the rural strategy of this Plan and requires the support of the Jefferson County Development Authority and other organizations which support the agricultural economy. A broad-based rural economy can be a net-revenue generator for the County because tax revenues generally exceed expenditures for rural properties. The County recognizes its fiscal responsibility to protect the land resource for the rural economy, to provide fundamental protection for rural businesses, to ensure prudent fiscal management of limited public resources, and to provide needed protection of the public health and safety.

Rural Economic Activities

The agricultural community in Jefferson County recommended the following priorities to strengthen the rural economy:

Agricultural Community Priorities
Diversify farm operations through the sale and marketing of value added products (such as the processing and marketing of products on-site);
Allow farm operators to work with nearby farm operators to market and sell each other's goods on each individual farm;
Allow a wider range of service activities to take place on agricultural properties.

The rural areas of Jefferson County include not only farms and residences, but also a variety of small artisan studios and other cottage industries. While the preservation of agriculture is essential to the protection of rural areas, it is also important to provide for the ability of appropriately scaled businesses to succeed. When permitting additional uses in the rural area, it is important that the size and scale of both the property and the business be correlated. The intensity of the activity permitted should directly relate to the size of the rural property which would enable larger rural properties to undertake more activities. By correlating scale and intensity of uses to the rural property size, it is anticipated that off-site impacts would be mitigated for the surrounding landowners. Some uses may require performance standards which should be incorporated into the local land use regulations.

By enabling farm operators to have more options and encouraging the creation of cottage industries that reflect the rural aesthetic, the viability of operating rural based businesses in the County's rural areas will be enhanced in the coming decades. While Jefferson County has modified its Zoning and Land Development Ordinance to allow for a greater variety of uses, additional steps might be needed to improve opportunities for farm operators to continue or expand their businesses, and for artisans and other individuals to operate small businesses that complement these activities. A streamlined process for uses with minimal impacts to surrounding neighbors should be developed.

The land use component of this Plan recognizes an example of a non-residential Conditional Use Permit (CUP) in the Rural area referred to as an Agricultural Based Economic Empowerment Area, defined as a commercial agricultural hub that is not located on a farm, but is located in a rural area and focuses on intensively supporting agricultural activity through the value added processing, holistic health and marketing of local goods. Other appropriate uses in the Rural district (some of which may require a CUP) include, but are not limited to, artisan activities; home based businesses; agricultural equipment sales, rental, and repair services; veterinary services; farm co-ops; product storage and seed supply; agri-tourism, bed-and-breakfast enterprises; farm markets, wayside stands, and similar types of uses, provided that these uses are designed in a manner compatible with the rural character of the area.

There are many creative people that live and work in Jefferson County, using their talents to create poetry, pottery, paintings, plays, performances, photographs, novels, fabric art, sculpture, carvings, installations, music and dance, and the fine art and culture of all forms. The County is home to numerous cultural and historical organizations as well as artist studios, galleries, museums, and theaters which host a number of activities and events throughout the year. These activities and organizations add to the cultural value in the County and provide economic resources for the artisan. This Plan supports the artisan community and its needs for developing a robust economic and cultural community.

While most of these types of Cottage Industries and Home Occupations are permitted by right in the Rural District, some more intense uses may require a CUP. This Plan recommends that the use of the CUP in the Rural District be limited to non-residential uses not permitted in the Rural District which are compatible in scale and intensity with the rural environment and that pose no threat to public health, safety, and welfare. Some non-agricultural/non-residential related rural CUPs should only be proposed on a small portion of a rural property to help preserve farmland and open space, and continue agricultural operations. This requires eliminating the Land Evaluation Site Assessment (LESA) system and modifying the CUP process. For additional discussion, see Rural Land Use Planning Section (page 34).

Agricultural Service Facilities

An issue expressed by members of Jefferson County's agricultural community during the planning of this document was the lack of agricultural service facilities located in Jefferson County. Farm operators currently travel to Winchester, Hagerstown, or Frederick to purchase farm machinery or to get their machinery repaired. Farmers raising livestock also need to travel out of state to sell or purchase animals at auctions. There are few large animal veterinarians in Jefferson County that can assist with maintaining the health of animals or be available in case of emergency. There are no meat processing facilities in the County and nearby out of state facilities are limited to mass production which excludes small farmers from receiving this service. The lack of service facilities could have a negative impact on the maintenance or expansion of agricultural activities in Jefferson County in the coming years.

Distribution and Marketing of the County's Agricultural Products

In recent years, there has been a change in the way farm products are marketed and sold in Jefferson County. In the past, a large number of farm products cultivated on Jefferson County farms were commodities, with little differentiation between the products of individual farm operators. Currently this is changing due to the increasing reliance of the local farm community on farmers' markets and direct sales to local and regional restaurants. There are several farmers' markets operating in Jefferson County on a weekly basis, during the growing season, at temporary sites. A permanent year-round farmers' market could provide opportunities for a winter market in a place that could also be used for the sales of arts and crafts, root crops, or value added products. Incorporating a farmers' market into a regional agricultural center complex could serve as another means of selling the County's farm products and could include dining and/or commercial kitchen facilities.

While the farmers' markets have helped individual farm operators differentiate between their products, there is still a limited local or regional identity when it comes to agriculture in the Eastern Panhandle. In some cases, individual farms have addressed this concern through the creation of an identity for the farm and/or for the product being produced. It would be beneficial to the Jefferson County rural economy if a more unified effort occurred through a shared marketing mechanism, regional branding, or the creation of common distribution and marketing facilities.

An increasing movement toward smaller farming operations of less than 40 acres in size in the County should not be discounted, even though a number of farms in Jefferson County are located on large tracts of land. According to the 2012 U.S. Agricultural Census, over half of all farms in Jefferson County provide a limited income to farm operators; however, there are opportunities for expansion of smaller farming operations. The majority of the farms in Jefferson County have the opportunity to provide a viable range of income generating agricultural activities to an individual farm operator.

Enhance Farmland Protection Activities

In 2000, Jefferson County formed a Farmland Preservation Program that is funded by a portion of the transfer tax collected when a house or land is sold. To date, this program has purchased the development rights of 3,900 acres. As mentioned in the Land Use element, the funding that is available to support the County's farmland protection program is much less than the demand from farm operators to participate in it. Since the County's farmland protection program is funded by a portion of the transfer tax, the viability of the program is subject to a widely fluctuating real estate marketplace. In times when there is a great deal of real estate activity, revenue generated for the program is strong, enhancing the ability to purchase development rights and protect farmlands. Conversely, in times when the real estate market is slow, the amount of money available for protection efforts is limited. Therefore, it is important to establish reliable funding sources to support farmland protection activities. One option to protect farmland is to coordinate with the American Battlefield Protection program to make the most efficient use of funding resources.

To reduce the conversion of farmland, the Plan recommends that clustering should be the preferred method of any rural residential development. This would allow land owners to group lots in a traditional rural community pattern, while retaining a majority of the land for agricultural and rural economic uses. Even when the development of a residential cluster results in the loss of some farm land, the goal of the regulations related to cluster developments is to retain as much farmland as possible by adjusting the number and size of the lots in the cluster and requiring the balance of the farm (the residue) to be retained as a permanent agricultural use. Cluster developments on a property should minimize the use of high quality soils and maximize the use of less productive agricultural land. In order to retain the maximum amount of land in farm use and rural economic activity, the open space requirement for residential cluster development shall be met by the residue which will retain no development rights.

Transportation in the Rural Environment

The County's rural road network originally evolved serving the needs of the farming community and is not intended to serve the needs associated with the higher traffic volumes and speeds required for large residential subdivisions. At certain seasons of the year conflict can be created between residential traffic and large pieces of slow moving farm equipment. The LESA/CUP system has not effectively protected the rural road network from this type of development pressure. As such, this Plan recommends utilizing cluster developments as the preferred form of residential development within the rural areas. Limiting suburban development in the rural area helps protect agricultural land use activities.

Most of the roads in the County's rural area are paved, but tend to have narrow widths, excessive horizontal and vertical curvatures, bridge and drainage problems, and poor intersection alignments. These conditions contribute to the safety concerns associated with increasing motor vehicle traffic on the rural roads. The increased residential densities that have occurred in the rural area in the past are producing additional traffic volume and requiring more maintenance of the rural road network of predominantly narrow, two-lane paved roads with existing design issues.

Agriculture Tourism

The rural areas of the County contribute to the local tourism economy in a variety of ways. Not least of these is the maintenance of attractive viewsheds to enhance the experience of visitors to battlefields, historic sites and villages. Tourism is addressed later in this Element on page 81.

The following recommendations provide action steps to foster and expand the diverse rural economy through a variety of policy, regulatory, incentive-based, and programmatic approaches that will protect the rural land, structures, and character necessary to advance the rural economy.

Agricultural and Rural Economy Recommendations (Goal 8)
1.	Support West Virginia’s and Jefferson County’s “Right to Farm” policies which protect the rights of existing and future farms and farmers by developing zoning standards, other legislation, and educational programs designed to reduce potential conflicts arising from the proximity of agriculture to residential development (State Code § 19-19; Section 4.5 of the County’s Zoning Ordinance).
	a. Identify and utilize a wider variety of funding sources that could serve to expand the County’s farmland protection program.
	b. Create an educational pamphlet informing developers, realtors, and potential homeowners of the offsite impacts of living adjacent to farming activities.
2.	Enact Zoning Ordinance provisions to reduce the intensity of residential development in the Rural zone, other than by clustering, thereby protecting and increasing the investment potential and attractiveness of the agricultural lands for families, entrepreneurs, and businesses.
	a. Decrease the problems of rural traffic volume and the need for additional costly public infrastructure services in rural areas while conserving areas of the Rural zone for agricultural uses and the rural economy through support for rural cluster development vs large subdivisions of new home growth.
3.	Support the rural economy by amending the Subdivision Regulations to establish rural business site plan standards to include:
	a. performance criteria, including compatible size, scale, use, intensity, traffic capacity limits, employee limits, site design standards (i.e. buffering, siting), and standards that protect public health, safety, and welfare; and
	b. the adaptive reuse of existing historic and agricultural structures.
4.	Collaborate with the County’s agricultural community to assess the current land use regulations and determine what opportunities for agriculture might currently exist and what additional opportunities might be able to succeed in Jefferson County.
5.	Amend the Zoning and Land Development Ordinance to permit additional non-residential rurally compatible uses.
	a. Incorporate into the zoning provisions innovative agricultural uses including the creation of standards which permit flexibility in the sale of farm products and related auxiliary products.
	b. Amend local land use regulations to permit non-agriculturally related commercial uses by the Conditional Use Permit (CUP) process in the Rural zone if the use is agriculturally and rurally compatible in scale and intensity, poses no threat to public health, safety, and welfare, and if the use helps to preserve farmland and open space and continue agricultural operations.

	c. Require that new non-rural commercial uses that are not compatible with the dominant agricultural land use pattern locate only in the Urban Growth Boundaries (UGBs) and Preferred Growth Areas (PGAs) as identified by the future land use recommendations of this Plan.
6.	Coordinate with local businesses and the Jefferson County Development Authority (JCDA) to brand and market Jefferson County farms and products by identifying and linking potential partnerships and matching suppliers with potential local and regional markets.

	c. Promote products to Jefferson County based businesses.
8.	Coordinate with key agricultural and rural stakeholders to identify ways to expand marketing and value added production activities for farmers and artisans on their properties in rural areas of Jefferson County.
	a. Amend existing regulations in order to identify and facilitate ways to allow the sale of items grown, processed, crafted, or manufactured in Jefferson County on farms other than the farm where the product originated.
	b. Develop a streamlined process for such uses when there are minimal impacts to surrounding neighbors.
	c. Expand and improve high speed Information Technology (IT) connections in rural areas of Jefferson County with local internet or advanced technologies providers to enable residents to run businesses from home or to telecommute.
