STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
CHARLESTON 25305

EARL RAY TOMBLIN
GOVERNOR

GREETINGS FROM THE GOVERNOR

West Virginia is blessed to have an abundance of accomplished citizens who have made volunteerism and service a priority in our state. As West Virginia's 35th Governor, I am honored to present the 2011 Governor's Service Awards to the individuals and groups who demonstrate the true essence of volunteerism.

Our state's self-reliant, independent and welcoming Mountaineer spirit improves the quality of life of our citizens each and every day. Volunteers are the heart of each community.

This is an opportunity to recognize those who have made the greatest mark across our state through service. I encourage you to take the time to nominate an outstanding individual, organization or family that puts "West Virginia First" through volunteerism. Without your applications, we will miss a wonderful opportunity to honor those who give so much and expect so little in return.

The deadline for nominations is April 13, 2011. For additional information on this program, please contact Volunteer West Virginia, the state's Commission for National and Community Service, at 304-558-0111.

Sincerely,

Earl Ray Tomblin

Governor Earl Ray Tomblin and Volunteer West Virginia, the state's Commission for National and Community Service, in celebration of volunteers across West Virginia, invite nominations for the 2011 Governor's Service Awards.

Every day extraordinary individuals, organizations, and families effect real change in their communities through their volunteer service. They are the catalysts that help people and groups move past their differences to build shared understanding and solve common problems. Volunteers give West Virginia hope for the future.

As the Governor's advisory board on matters relating to service and volunteerism, Volunteer West Virginia mobilizes resources, promotes an ethic of service, and empowers communities to solve problems and improve the quality of life for individuals and communities.

AWARD CATEGORIES

Awards may be presented to nominees in each of the following categories for significant 2010 service contributions. Because the goal of the Governor's Service Awards is to recognize outstanding and extraordinary volunteer service efforts, awards are not always given in all categories. More than one award may be made per category.

Youth

Three categories (ages 6-11, 12-14, 15-18) recognize young individuals who have made significant contributions through volunteer efforts or programs that serve as models and inspiration to other young volunteers. Youth should be nominated according to their age during the 2009-2010 academic year.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

2. In the second part of the paper, we consider the problem of the existence of a function $f(x)$ which satisfies the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$ and is not identically zero. It is shown that such a function does not exist.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

5. In the fifth part of the paper, we consider the problem of the existence of a function $f(x)$ which satisfies the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$ and is not identically zero. It is shown that such a function does not exist.

6. The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

7. The seventh part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

8. The eighth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

9. The ninth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

10. The tenth part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.

11. The eleventh part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the function $f(x)$ defined by the equation $f(x) = \int_0^x f(t) dt$. It is shown that $f(x)$ is a constant function and that the only solution of the equation is $f(x) = 0$.
