CHARLES TOWN, WV (April 3, 2025) – The Jefferson County Commission is proud to announce that Luke Seigfried, county planner, has been awarded the Commission's Outstanding Constituent Relations Mission Award for his dedication to engaging with the public and ensuring effective communication between citizens and local government.

Luke earned this recognition for his timely responses to citizen inquiries and his ability to effectively manage public meetings with diverse perspectives. Among his many contributions, one that stands out is his coordination of large-scale public hearings, where thousands of citizens had the opportunity to provide input on the comprehensive plan. His efforts in organizing logistics, overseeing on-site IT and audio/video setup, and ensuring a smooth public input process exemplify his expertise and dedication to serving the community.

The Outstanding Constituent Relations Mission Award is one of several mission awards established by the Commission to recognize employees who go above and beyond in their roles—demonstrating exemplary professionalism, outstanding constituent relations, and pride in oneself, the Commission, and Jefferson County.

Please call the Commission Office with questions (304) 728-3284.
